ANALYTICAL WRITING TASK

Name:_____

Date of Birth:_____Year level:_____

Many science fiction stories deal with the possibility of being able to "design" our children by choosing the specific physical and personality traits we would like them to have. No longer is this just fiction, however. Cloning may allow us to weed out genetic disease, enhance desirable traits, even deliver made-to-order children. Do you think this is a good idea? Why or why not? Use specific examples and reasons to support your position.
