LOWANNA College student Georgia Moore is putting her vocal chords to the test every weekend as she prepares to perform in one of Australia's biggest theatrical productions.

The 14-year-old year nine student is one of 33 government school students to make the principal cast of the Shine On 2010 Victorian State Schools Spectacular and will perform in front of thousands of people at Hisense Arena in Melbourne in September.

The professional song and dance extravaganza will feature nearly 2600 of the state's finest young singers, dancers and musicians.

After three rounds of auditions, Georgia said she was thrilled to be chosen.

"I was like, 'oh yay!' when I got the letter," Georgia said.

As a senior solo vocalist, she will sing 12 songs - including Respect by Aretha Franklin and Michael Jackson's Man in the Mirror - and three of them will be on her own.

She now travels to Melbourne every weekend to rehearse.

"I did one (a spectacular) when I was 12 because it happens every two years," Georgia said.

"But I think this will be bigger than the first one because I'm that much older and my voice is better than when I first started."

The talented student, who loves singer Pink, regularly participates in local eisteddfods and the Department of Education's Joining the Chorus program. She started singing lessons a year and a half ago and also dances at the Gippsland Academy of Dance.
